Henry VIII Novice Chase – Becher Chase –

Bavaria Hcp Hurdle – Tingle Creek Chase

Introduction

Welcome to the latest NTF guide of the 2011/12 NH Season. Today's guide looks at the Henry VIII Novices' Chase, Bavari Handicap Hurdle & Tingle Creek Chase from Sandown as well as the Becher Chase from Aintree and puts all 4 contests under the spotlight and subject them to the usual rigorous NTF Dosage analysis and extended trends analysis.

If the Dosage method is still an alien concept to you then please take a look through the example guide that I have recently been giving away.

Each race that I analyse is split over 6 sections –

- Section 1 highlights the Dosage trends, sourced from the previous 15 renewals, as well as running style trends and other key Dosage trends.
- Section 2 looks at this year's entrants and splits the field into likely winners, possible winners and unlikely winners based on Dosage
- Section 3 looks at the important trends that the past 15 winners had in common and looks to see which of today's runners best fit the trends
- Section 4 looks at the pace of the race and how each runner is likely to run and how the race may ultimately shape up
- Section 5 is the race overview and where I look at compiling a short list based on trends, Dosage and Going
- Section 6 is my selection section. This section always includes the NTF selection (the horse I think has a big chance based on its Dosage figures and trends profile) but depending on the size of field and/or competitiveness of the race there may also be an NTF outsider/danger horse (an outsider who I feel has a better chance than the market suggests or a horse I feel is a big danger to my selection) and/or a potential Dosage buster (a horse that has the potential to outperform its Dosage figures)

This NTF release is a guide to who are the likely winners based on the Dosage method and extended trends analysis. Although I have added a section with my own selections this segment is not the only way you can utilise the guide. What I have presented to you is a Dosage and trends breakdown of today's race. The entries for this race have been broken down, using trends and stats from the previous 15 renewals(if available), into likely winners, possible winners and unlikely winners based on Dosage. How you use these stats is entirely up to yourself. You could, if you wanted, follow my selections blindly, you could interpret the figures in your own way and come to your own conclusions, you could incorporate the figures into your own analysis and/or ratings, you could follow only the Dosage figures, you could follow only the extended trends analysis - the choice is exclusively yours. I have presented the stats in my regular NTF fashion and you can use them how you see fit.

I personally use Dosage and trends to aid my betting in a number of ways and hopefully you will too.

*We must remember that although trends and stats are a good pointer they are not a guarantee for future success.

I hope enjoy the latest NTF guide ☺

Abbreviations that are used in this publication

Dosage Trends

DP = Dosage Profile

DI = Dosage Index

CD = Centre of Distribution

Dosage Points Angle (DPA)

PATB = Points Across The Board

Horses that have points in each category of their Dosage Profile

20+ = 20 or more total Dosage Points

Horses that have equal to or more than 20 points in their Dosage Profile

DQ = Dual Qualifier

Horses that have BOTH points across the board AND 20 or more points in their Dosage Profile

Best of luck for today, enjoy the guide and Happy Punting 😊

NTF Selection – AL FEROF (P Nicholls) is a short price here but fully deserves to be. He tops the trends and by far looks the most likely winner after his impressive debut display at Cheltenham. He should be able to take this on his way to even bigger targets later on in the season.

2011 Becher Chase Selections

NTF Selection – WEST END ROCKER (A King) – The 9yo had his first taste of the big fences in last season's National when given no chance at Bechers when brought down by a faller directly in front of him. Jockey Robert Thornton commented that they were jumping superbly until that point (albeit only 5 fences). Wayne Hutchinson takes over here and the pair have an excellent record of 3 wins from 4 starts (1-1-1-P). 3 of the horses 4 career victories have come in fields of around this size and his December form record is a healthy 2-7-1. For all that his last run was disappointing it was his first start of the campaign he does run well when returning to the track within 30 days (1-2-2-1-3-2). He is currently only 4lbs higher than his previous winning mark and providing he takes to the fences as well 2nd time around he looks markedly over-priced here.

NTF Danger – SWING BILL (D Pipe) – A perfect trends score and sitting in the Dosage green zone makes me takes notice of this lad. He jumped round these fences perfectly adequately in the Topham in April his 2 runs so far this season have been career bests on RPR figures. He could easily put his course experience to good use here and get himself into the frame at a decent price.

2011 Bavaria Handicap Hurdle Selections

NTF Selection – EDGARDO SOL (P Nicholls) – He was hammered 12lb by the handicapper after winning easily last time out at Cheltenham but the manner in which he won suggests there could well be more in the locker. He looks the kind that will relish the climb up the hill and he has an excellent chance of landing the hat-trick.

NTF Danger – TENOR NIVERNAIS (V Williams) – I can't believe his run last time out (PU) was anywhere near his potential and the yard were far from firing in the winners at that time (November first time out runners not really Venetia's bag anyway). With the yard in much better shape and the 4yo having a pipe opener under his belt he rates as a big danger in this contest.

The above is just a quick snapshot of how the race may be run based on the perceived running styles of each horse.

FIX THE RIB should tag along out front although plenty others will be sitting right on his heels; this should be run at a decent lick.

2011 Tingle Creek Chase Selections

NTF Selection – KAUTO STONE (P Nicholls) – Clear top of the trends, in the Dosage Green zone and from a yard that clearly knows what it takes to win this race (won last 6 and 7 of last 10!). He took to non-French fences well last time out and was very clever on the couple of occasions he did get in a bit close. I can't see the step back in trip being a major obstacle as he doesn't look devoid of speed and his jumping will be an asset around the tricky Sandown fences. Ruby Walsh now on-board is an obvious bonus and Kauto Star's half-brother can land another Tingle Creek for the family.
